EMGRAVING BUREAU AWARDED CONTRACT TO PRINT STAMPS

Cortelyou Thinks Costlier Bid Will Be Offset in the End.

Postmaster General Cortelyou FACTS OF ILLNESS has awarded to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing of the Treasury Department, the contract for furnishing postage stamps and books of stamps for the postal service during the period of four years beginning February 1, 1907 This award was made after the fullest consideration of the proposals submitted. There were only two bidders, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and the American Bank Note Company of

"It appears to be the policy of the Government, as shown by various acts of Congress, to manufacture its cur-rency, revenue stamps, securities, etc., by its own agencies and under teh su-pervision of its own officials, and it would be contrary to that policy to give over to a private company the contract for the manufacture of postage stamps, which are securities of the United States, solely for the purpose of effecting a saving to the Postolace Department of an amount relatively small and largely problematical.

Doubt as to Legal Obligation.

'The American Bank Note Company in its letter of November 13, offers to the Government the option of five sucessive renewals, of four years each, upon the same terms and conditions now proposed, of the contract for the manufacture of postage stamps and stamps in books. Admitting the fairness of this offer and the good faith of the company in making it, there may be serious doubt whether it would be legally binding upon the company, if accepted by the Postmaster General, and whether indeed, its acceptance would be warranted by public policy.

The annual saving, if the award had been made to the private bidder, would have been approximately $17,000, but the Postmster General's investigation of the subject convinced him that this amount would be more than offset by the loss on the machinery of the postage stamp plant in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, even if it should be sold to the American Bank Note Company at its present market value.

Not Directed by Congress.

While Congress has not directed that postage stamps shrould be manufactured at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, it has authorized the Postmaster General to have them manufactured there when, in als judgment, to do so would be for the best interests of the Postfice Department.

WOMAN PROMOTED; $1,000 TO $1,800

Biggest Salary Jump Ever Recorded in the Navy Department.

Two of the biggest jumps in the salary list of the civil service that have ever been made in the Navy Department, if not in any branch of the Government service, have just been accomplished in the Bureau of Navigation, one by a man and the other by a woman.

J. Dillin P.ill has been promoted from a $1,200 clerkship to $1,800, and Mrs. L. Flood Channon from $1,000 to the same figure. Such a jump on the part of a woman in the Government service is entirely without precedent. Both were personally congratulated today by Acting Secretary of the Nazy Newberry.

The raising of these two clerks to the

$1,800 list is not a promotion in regular sense, the change having been made as the result of competitive exami nation for the place of two finger-print clerks in the enlisted men's division of the bureau. By special order these two places were provided for, to take up the new work of the finger-print identifica-tion system, which is to be put under tion system, which is to be put under way beginning December 1.

Criticism is heard among some of the clerks because the two new places were not filled in the regular manner of promotion. This would have meant promotions all down the line, bringing up two clerks in each grade. The officials point out, however, that it was not a civil service examination, and linger print identification was entirely new and the two places were especially created.

The promotion of Mrs. Channon has nothing to do with Secretary Bonaparte's attitude in favor of the promotion of women clerks.

Mrs. Channon came to the department as Miss L. C. Flood, in October, 1900, as a stenographer, at $720, She was appointed from New Jersey.

Mr. Hall, also, has had an unusual career, his promotions having come rapidly—unusually so, for the Navy Department.

case although she is repeatedly men-doned in Mrs. Bassett's deposition as awing nursed Mrs. Bassett through an liness, and of having been with her on illness, and of having been with her on many occasions.

A part of the time that the Bassetts lived in the Albermarle apartment house, Mr. Hunt and his mother lived there, too. The Hunts were on the seventh floor and the Bassetts were on the fourth. Mrs. Bassett's sister, Mrs. Harvey Riddell, of Denver, and brother Benjamin F. Rice, have not been called to testify, although in his letter to Mrs. Jennie E. Stone in Paris, in which his side of the case is gone over, Mr. Hunt asserts that Mr. and Mrs. Riddell are both on Mrs. Bassett's side. the medical student said he referred to Mr. Hunt.
Gray says he also told Bassett that the Chester, the eldest boy, had no use for him (the faiher). Gray admits having repeated the conversation to Hunt. In the mass of evidence which is to be presented to the court on Monday, are the letters which Mrs. Bassett wrote to her husband during the summer after he left Washington and which, she asserts, were written in accordance with Dr. McKay's advice. These are full of affairs of the household, her personal doings and the daily movements and behavior of the children. They are couched in the most affectionate terms, but throughout the entire series there is not an intimation from Mrs. Bassett that she was in delicate health.

As the summer were on Mrs. Bassett the medical student said he referred to
